Report on Review of the Summary Interim Consolidated Financial Information

Translation of the original Russian version

To the Shareholders and the Supervisory Council of VTB Bank (public joint-stock company)

Introduction

We have reviewed the summary interim condensed consolidated financial statements of VTB Bank (public joint-stock company) (the "Bank") and its subsidiaries (the "Group"), which comprise the summary interim income statement, the summary interim consolidated statement of comprehensive income for the three- and nine-month period ended 30 September 2025, the summary interim consolidated statement of financial position as at 30 September 2025, the summary interim consolidated statement of changes in shareholders' equity for the nine-month period then ended, and notes to the summary interim condensed consolidated financial statements (the "summary interim consolidated financial information" hereinafter).

The summary interim consolidated financial information is derived from the Group's interim condensed consolidated financial statements for the three and nine-month period ended on 30 September 2025, prepared in accordance with IAS 34 Interim Financial Reporting.

Management of the Group is responsible for the preparation of this summary interim consolidated financial information in accordance with the accounting principles described in Note 29, "Basis of preparation of the summary interim condensed consolidated financial statements". Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on this summary interim consolidated financial information based on our review.

Scope of review

We conducted our review in accordance with International Standard on Review Engagements 2410 Review of Interim Financial Information Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity. A review of summary interim consolidated financial information consists of making inquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with International Standards on Auditing and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Translation of the original Russian version

Conclusion

Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the accompanying summary interim consolidated financial information is not prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with the accounting principles described in Note 29, "Basis of preparation of the summary interim condensed consolidated financial statements".

Emphasis of matter – basis of accounting

We draw attention to Note 29, "Basis of preparation of the summary interim condensed consolidated financial statements" to the summary interim condensed consolidated financial statements, which describes the principles applied in the preparation of this summary interim consolidated financial information. The summary interim consolidated financial information does not include all information required to be presented and disclosed in accordance with IAS 34 Interim Financial Reporting. Our conclusion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Other matter

We have expressed an unmodified conclusion in respect of the Group's interim condensed consolidated financial statements for the three and nine-month period ended on 30 September 2025, prepared in accordance with IAS 34 Interim Financial Reporting, in our review report dated 24 October 2025.

2. ANALYSIS BY SEGMENT

In accordance with IFRS 8, Operating Segments, the Group has defined seven reportable segments:

- Corporate-Investment banking (CIB);
- Medium and Small banking (MSB);
- Retail business (RB);
- Treasury;
- Other business;
- Corporate center;
- Non-distributed acquisitions.

The composition of reportable segments is approved by resolutions of VTB Group's Management Committee, the body that on a regular basis assesses performance of reportable segments and allocates resources to them.

(a) Factors that management uses in order to identify the reportable segments

The Group's segments are strategic business lines that are managed separately, focus on different clients and have product specialisation.

The majority of the Group's activities and resources are allocated and managed, and their performance is assessed via the respective segment information.

(b) Segments' business activities

The CIB, MSB and RB segments are global business lines that focus on servicing different customer segments.

The Treasury, Other Business and Corporate Centre segments, as well as Non-distributed acquisitions do not constitute separate global business lines.

The Group Management Committee sets the criteria used to identify client segments for each global business line. They include principles for allocating customers between large, medium and small business customer segments.

CIB and MSB

CIB global business line encompasses operations with corporate customers that are "large business" customers, banking financial institutions, Internet and mobile acquiring operations with retail stores chains, as well as operations on the securities market, excluding operations with securities for liquidity management purposes. In addition, CIB global business line makes direct equity investments, becoming a partner in socially significant infrastructure projects and companies in various industries. CIB's global business line offers partnership experience, infrastructure and financial resources of VTB Group, which allows them to increase their operational efficiency and investment appeal as part of a long-term strategy.

MSB global business line encompasses operations with corporate customers of "medium business" and "small business" categories.

Reportable segments comprise:

- Operations with prevailing market risk including loans with exposure to market risks;
- Corporate finance operations;
- Asset management, brokerage services and financial consulting;
- All types of operations with precious metals;
- Profit-taking operations on the financial and currency markets, including interbank market;
- Other products and services with prevailing market risk;

NOTES TO THE SUMMARY INTERIM CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

2. ANALYSIS BY SEGMENT (CONTINUED)

(b) Segments' business activities (continued)

Treasury

The Treasury comprises:

- Operations to manage liquidity risk (including those with securities portfolios maintained for liquidity management purposes);
- Operations on financial and interbank markets as a part of management of payment and currency positions, as well as interest rate risk management;
- Debt financing operations;
- Reallocation of resources between segments both within the Head office and subsidiary and between VTB Group members.

The net financial results of the Treasury reportable segment are allocated to other reportable segments in accordance with established methodology.

Corporate Centre

The Corporate Centre represents unallocated staff and administrative expenses related to VTB Group's management, as well as expenses on strategic programmes connected with VTB Group's brand development. It may also include other items resulting from intersegment reallocations as determined by VTB Group's Management Committee. Corporate Centre also includes investments in associates not allocated to reportable segments.

Other business

The other business includes two lines of business: Construction and development and Other activities.

The Construction and development business line is non-banking operations undertaken by Group members operating in the construction and development industry.

The Other activities represent non-banking business, including assets, which were transferred to the Group as a result of debt settlement and operations of companies in non-banking digital business.

Non-distributed acquisitions

The non-distributed acquisitions reportable segment includes data on acquired subsidiaries, banks and financial organizations before the integration of the activities of those subsidiaries into the Group's business lines.

(c) Assessing operating segments' profit or loss, assets or liabilities

The performance of a segment and its profit or loss are measured in accordance with IFRS, as adjusted by intersegment reallocations and decisions of VTB Group's Management Committee regarding the allocation of operations between segments.

The Head office and the Group members prepare segment reporting using unified rules.

Intersegment transactions within a single entity of the Group are settled using the internal transfer rates, which are designed to reflect the cost of resources. For VTB Group members operating in the Russian Federation, transfer rates are set centrally. For VTB Group members operating outside the Russian Federation, transfer rates are set and regularly reviewed within a specific legal entity. VTB Group's Management Committee evaluates segments' performance based on their net profit after tax, as well as other qualitative and quantitative information.

Intersegment transactions are predominantly conducted in the normal course of business.

As at 30 September 2025, the Group's reportable segments and their compositions remained as disclosed in the consolidated financial statements as at 31 December 2024.

On 12 July 2024 the Federal law No. 176-FZ On amendments to the first and second parts of the Tax code, certain legislative acts of the Russian Federation and about recognition became invalid for specific provisions of legislative acts of the Russian Federation (the "Law") was enacted. The Law provides for an increase in the income tax rate from 20% to 25% starting 1 January 2025. Furthermore, starting from the 1 January 2025 the income tax rate on state and municipal bonds, as well as bonds of Russian issuers, mortgage bonds specified in the first subparagraph of paragraph 1 of paragraph 4 of Article 284 of the Tax Code of the Russian Federation increased to 20%.

In accordance with the forecast of future taxable income in these summary interim condensed consolidated financial statements previously unrecognized deferred tax assets of the Bank in the amount of RUR 108.5 billion were recognized, including deferred tax benefit in profit or loss of RUR 108.5 billion. Recognition of deferred tax assets which were previously written off is caused by emerging trends towards stabilization in the economy and geopolitics which are confirmed by improved macroeconomic indicators as well as the Bank's plans to approach the target balance sheet structure (minimized sensitivity to interest rate risk) by reduction of long-term assets at fixed rates based on the forecasted structure of liabilities.

The General Annual Meeting of VTB Shareholders, held in June 2024, decided not to pay dividends for 2023 on ordinary shares, as well as preference shares of the first and second types.

24. CONTINGENCIES AND COMMITMENTS

Legal proceedings

From time to time and in the normal course of business, claims against the Group have been received. As at the reporting date the Group had several unresolved legal claims. Management assessed probable outflow of resources and the respective provision in the amount of RUR 6.5 billion has been made as at 30 September 2025 (31 December 2024: RUR 7.9 billion).

Tax contingencies

Major part of the Group's business activity is carried out in the Russian Federation. Russian tax and currency legislation as currently in effect is vaguely drafted and is subject to varying interpretations, selective and inconsistent application and changes, which can occur frequently, at short notice and may apply retrospectively.

In particular, due to the improved geopolitical situation during 2022-2024, a significant number of changes were made to the tax legislation of the Russian Federation, some of which were aimed at reducing the effect of the introduction of economic sanctions against Russian taxpayers. Another part of the changes related to the expansion of measures aimed at countering abuses in the field of violations of tax legislation. Also, certain provisions of a number of international agreements on taxation were suspended.

Currently, the practice of applying the above-mentioned norms, as well as a number of other provisions (for example, a provision providing for a ban on reducing the taxpayer's tax base and (or) amounts payable, including in cases where the main purpose of the transaction (operation) is not non-payment (incomplete payment) and (or) the offset (refund) of the tax amount has not been formed and (or) is contradictory. In this regard, there is uncertainty about the procedure for their application and possible interpretation by the Russian tax authorities in practice.

VTB BANK

The changes described above, as well as recent trends in law enforcement practice, indicate that tax authorities and courts may take a more stringent approach when interpreting and applying this legislation during tax audits, including when applying this legislation to financial transactions, as well as when applying provisions aimed at identifying transactions the main purpose of which is to evade (or underpay) the amount of tax. As a result, the tax authorities may file claims for those transactions and accounting methods for which they had not previously filed claims. As a result, significant additional taxes, penalties and fines may be accrued by the relevant authorities.

Generally, fiscal periods remain open and subject to review (except reviews of transfer pricing) by the Russian tax authorities for a period of three calendar years immediately preceding the year in which the decision to conduct a tax review is taken (exception to the general statute of limitation for the tax audits is provided by the cooperative tax compliance regime, which some of the entities of the Group have entered into). Under certain circumstances tax reviews may cover earlier periods.

Outstanding credit related commitments are as follows:

According to the management, as of 30 September 2025, and 31 December 2024, the relevant provisions of the legislation were correctly interpreted, and the Group's position on tax and currency issues should be supported by the tax authorities and courts.

Credit related commitments

The primary purpose of these instruments is to ensure that funds are available to a customer as required. Guarantees represent irrevocable assurances that the Group will make payments in the event that a customer cannot meet its obligations to third parties.

The total outstanding contractual amount of irrevocable undrawn credit lines, letters of credit and guarantees does not necessarily represent future cash requirements, as these financial instruments may expire or terminate without being funded.

	30 September 2025 (unaudited)	31 December 2024
Financial guarantees issued	241.9	253.5
Undrawn credit lines (irrevocable)	137.0	31.7
Letters of credit	25.1	7.6
Less: Expected credit loss	(5.3)	(4.7)
Total credit related commitments	398.7	288.1

As at 30 September 2025 revocable loan commitments amounted to RUR 8,906.8 billion with the ECL of RUR 45.3 billion (31 December 2024: RUR 9,259.6 billion with the ECL of RUR 52.2 billion).

As at 30 September 2025 expected credit losses for performance guarantees amounted to RUR 11.8 billion (31 December 2024: RUR 6.9 billion).

Performance guarantees

As at 30 September 2025 the Group has provided performance guarantees in the gross amount of RUR 1,127.1 billion (31 December 2024: RUR 1,119.4 billion).

25. OPERATING ENVIRONMENT OF THE GROUP

After 24 February 2022 the Group operates under large-scale international sanctions imposed against certain institutional bodies, companies, banks and citizens of the Russian Federation and the Republic of Belarus. New restrictions and sanction packages continue to be put into effect so far.

The announced sanctions imposed by the US, the EU, the UK and a number of other countries consider, among other things the partial freezing of the gold and foreign exchange reserves of the Bank of Russia, restrictions on access to European capital markets for the Ministry of Finance of the Russian Federation and the Bank of Russia, restrictions for residents of the Russian Federation on investing in instruments denominated in USD and EUR, as well as a number of other restrictive measures relating settlements, import and export operations with certain Russian banks and companies. The supply of EUR and USD cash banknotes to the Russian Federation is prohibited. A number of foreign companies suspended their operations in Russia or announced their complete cessation.

The USA, the EU, the UK and a number of other countries have imposed an embargo on the import of Russian oil by sea and set a price-cap on Russian tanker oil at 60 USD per 1 barrel.

In connection with the current regime of sanctions restrictions, payments on interest and dividends do not go in favor of equity and debt securities holders registered outside the perimeter of the depository system of the Russian Federation. The Bank of Russia restricted exchange trading in foreign securities blocked by international depositories. In July 2022, in accordance with Federal Law 292-FZ, Russian issuers were given the opportunity to issue local "substitute" bonds in a simplified manner to replace issued blocked Eurobonds.

Standard agreements operated under the ISDA (International Swaps and Derivatives Association) were early terminated after the announcement of sanctions in February 2022, which led to limited access to international derivatives markets.

Restrictions on making settlements in foreign currencies and investing in financial instruments denominated in foreign currencies lead to a significant change in the currency structure of settlements and the open currency position. Given significant volatility in foreign exchange rates, limited cross-border financial flows and introduction of secondary sanctions against international counterparties, such forced changes could have a material adverse effect on the Group's financial results.

The Government and the Central Bank of Russia have taken a number of measures to support the economy, which has suffered due to the imposition of sanctions. Among other things, these measures include borrowing subsidies for affected industries, companies and individuals, payment "holidays" and easing of certain regulatory restrictions to help the financial sector maintain its capabilities to provide resources and to help customers avoid liquidity shortages. The undertaken measures helped to reduce the negative impact of external factors and ensured the gradual stabilization of the situation, allowing to cancel some of mitigations introduced by the Central Bank of Russia, especially in terms of macroprudential policy.

For the period of 9 months of 2025 a positive output gap remained in the economy in the circumstances of a slowdown of business activity in industries oriented towards domestic demand, however, the upward deviation of the Russian economy from the balanced growth path has continued decreasing in the third quarter of 2025 due to significant slowdown in the industries oriented towards external demand. Sectors oriented towards domestic demand demonstrated growth, supported by expanding consumer activity and government spending. The maintenance of the consumer activity is caused by continued growth in the real wages in the context of labour market tensions and the achievement of a new record for the unemployment rate of 2.1%. Despite the decline in deposit rates, the population continues to follow a saving behavior model amid a slight revival in the retail lending segment, due to the persistent influence of both tight monetary policy and macroprudential requirements. Accumulated corporate profits, including those driven by budgetary incentives, along with the accelerated growth of the corporate loan portfolio, are becoming a source of support for investment activity as part of the ongoing process of structural transformation in the economy.

Inflation rate, households' inflation expectations and business's price expectations demonstrate slight decrease in the third quarter of 2025 in comparison with the level of those indicators in the first half of 2025 still remaining at a high level. In the context of continued external deglobalization, worsening foreign trade conditions and growing uncertainty regarding maintenance of disinflationary character of government spending, the inflation risks tend to shift towards pro-inflationary risks, though allowing the Bank of Russia to decrease the key rate to the level of 17% at the last Board's meeting in the third quarter of 2025.

During nine-month period ended 30 September 2025 selected macroeconomic indicators in Russia were as follows:

	30 September 2025	30 June 2025	31 March 2025	31 December 2024
Key rate of the Central Bank of the Russian Federation (% per annum)	17.0	20.0	21.0	21.0
Exchange rate of the Central Bank of the Russian Federation (roubles per 1 US dollar)	82.8676	78.4685	83.6813	101.6797
RTS index	1,023.75	1,142.24	1,110.31	893.22

Due to the high level of uncertainty and limited up-to-date and consistent information on the financial position of the Group's counterparties and borrowers, it is hardly possible to present a reliable assessment of the impact of the changes in the economic environment on the Group's results.

For financial instruments that are recognised at fair value on a recurring basis, the Group determines whether transfers have occurred between Levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

A significant portion of the investment financial assets in Level 3 is invested in shares of non-listed companies, which are valued based on non-market observable information. Changes in assumptions can lead to adjustments in the fair value of these investments.

For the nine-month period ended 30 September 2025, trading financial assets amounted to RUR 9.7 billion were transferred from Level 1 to Level 2, as their fair value began to be measured using the internal market model. Previously their fair value was determined based on quoted market prices.

For the nine-month period ended 30 September 2025, trading financial assets amounted to RUR 23.8 billion were transferred from Level 2 to Level 1, as their fair value began to be measured using the quoted market prices.

27. CAPITAL MANAGEMENT AND CAPITAL ADEQUACY

Capital adequacy is of a critical importance to the Group. The Group's intention is to have a strong capital base in order to maintain investor, creditor and market participants confidence and to sustain future development of its business.

The Group applies CBR requirements to manage its capital base. The Group is subject to consolidated regulatory capital requirements which are calculated in accordance with the regulations of the CBR.

CBR has designated the Bank as a systemically important bank (SIB). Accordingly, the capital requirements calculated in accordance with the CBR rules include the risk-based capital buffers and SIB surcharge.

As at 30 September 2025 the minimum risk-based capital buffers, applicable to the Group are set to 0.3% (31 December 2024: 0.3%).

The risk-based capital buffers and SIB surcharge in the future may differ due to additional guidance from the CBR.

The Group controls its capital adequacy ratios, determined as a percentage of risk-weighted assets in accordance with the CBR requirements by following categories of capital: core equity adequacy ratio of the Group (N 20.1); common capital adequacy ratio of the Group (N 20.2) and total capital adequacy ratio of the Group (N 20.0).

	30 September 2025 (unaudited)	31 December 2024

27. CAPITAL MANAGEMENT AND CAPITAL ADEQUACY (CONTINUED)

As at 30 September 2025 the Bank was in compliance with the CBR requirements to maintain minimum capital adequacy ratios of the Bank as a percentage of risk-weighted assets, determined in accordance with CBR's requirements by the following categories of capital: core equity adequacy ratio (N 1.1); common capital adequacy ratio (N 1.2) and total capital adequacy ratio (N 1.0).

The Bank uses the internal ratings approach approved by the Bank of Russia in order to calculate the amount of credit risk for capital adequacy ratios.

	30 September 2025 (unaudited)	31 December 2024
Core equity adequacy ratio (N 1.1)	6.2%	5.4%
Common capital adequacy ratio (N 1.2)	7.8%	7.5%
Total capital adequacy ratio (N 1.0)	9.8%	9.0%

Other members of the Group, including those located in other countries, comply with the applicable regulatory capital requirements of the CBR, local central banks or other supervisory authorities.

In particular, insurance companies and non-state pension funds belonging to the Group are subject to capital and financial sustainability requirements stated by the CBR. The current legislation sets concentration limits for investing for insurance companies and non-state pension funds. As at 30 September 2025 NSPF and IC belonging to the Group comply the applicable capital and concentration requirements stated by the CBR.

29. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF THE SUMMARY INTERIM CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (CONTINUED)

Estimates and assumptions

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect reported amounts. These estimates are based on information available as at the date of the financial statements. Actual results can differ significantly from such estimates. Judgments and significant estimates in these financial statements are consistent with those applied in the preparation of the Group's annual financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2024, except for the adoption of new and revised Standards effective as of 1 January 2025.

New standards

The Amendments to IAS 21 Lack of currency domain capability, applicable for periods starting on or after 1 January 2025, became mandatory for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2025.

These amendments did not have a material effect on the Group's interim condensed consolidated financial statements.
