Report on review of the summary interim financial information

Translation of the original Russian version

To the Shareholders and the Supervisory Board of VTB Bank (public joint-stock company)

Introduction

We have reviewed the accompanying summary interim condensed consolidated financial statements of VTB Bank (public-joint stock company) (the "Bank") and its subsidiaries (the "Group"), which comprise the summary interim consolidated income statement, summary interim consolidated statement of comprehensive income for the three-month period ended 31 March 2025, the summary interim consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 March 2025, the summary interim consolidated statement of changes in shareholders' equity for the three-month period then ended, and notes (the "summary interim consolidated financial information" hereinafter).

The summary interim consolidated financial information is derived from the Group's interim condensed consolidated financial statements for the three-month period ended on 31 March 2025, prepared in accordance with IAS 34 Interim Financial Reporting.

Management of the Group is responsible for the preparation of this summary interim consolidated financial information in accordance with the accounting principles described in Note 27, Basis of preparation of the summary interim condensed consolidated financial statements. Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on this summary interim consolidated financial information based on our review.

Scope of review

We conducted our review in accordance with International Standard on Review Engagements 2410 Review of Interim Financial Information Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity. A review of summary interim consolidated financial information consists of making inquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with International Standards on Auditing and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Conclusion

Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the accompanying summary interim consolidated financial information is not prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with the accounting principles described in Note 27, Basis of preparation of the summary interim condensed consolidated financial statements.

Translation of the original Russian version

2. ANALYSIS BY SEGMENT

In accordance with IFRS 8, Operating Segments, the Group has defined seven reportable segments:

- Corporate-Investment banking (CIB);
- Medium and Small banking (MSB);
- Retail business (RB);
- Treasury;
- Other business;
- Corporate center;
- Non-distributed acquisitions.

For the purposes of presentation in the summary interim condensed consolidated financial statements as at 31 March 2025 the Group classified Other business, Corporate center and Non-distributed acquisitions as Other segments.

The composition of reportable segments is approved by resolutions of VTB Group's Management Committee, the body that on a regular basis assesses performance of reportable segments and allocates resources to them.

(a) Factors that management uses in order to identify the reportable segments

The Group's segments are strategic business lines that are managed separately, focus on different clients and have product specialisation.

The majority of the Group's activities and resources are allocated and managed, and their performance is assessed via the respective segment information.

(b) Segments' business activities

The CIB, MSB and RB segments are global business lines that focus on servicing different customer segments.

The Treasury and segments which have been presented as Other segments do not constitute separate global business lines.

The Group Management Committee sets the criteria used to identify client segments for each global business line. They include principles for allocating customers between large, medium and small business customer segments.

CIB and MSB

CIB global business line encompasses operations with corporate customers that are "large business" customers, banking financial institutions, Internet and mobile acquiring operations with retail stores chains, as well as operations on the securities market, excluding operations with securities for liquidity management purposes. In addition, CIB global business line makes direct equity investments, becoming a partner in socially significant infrastructure projects and companies in various industries. CIB's global business line offers partnership experience, infrastructure and financial resources of VTB Group, which allows them to increase their operational efficiency and investment appeal as part of a long-term strategy.

MSB global business line encompasses operations with corporate customers of "medium business" and "small business" categories.

Reportable segments comprise:

- Operations with prevailing market risk including loans with exposure to market risks;
- Corporate finance operations;
- Asset management, brokerage services and financial consulting;
- All types of operations with precious metals;
- Profit-taking operations on the financial and currency markets, including interbank market;
- Other products and services with prevailing market risk;
- Operations with prevailing credit risk and interest rate risk, such as lending to corporate customers (large and medium businesses segments), including overdrafts on customers' current accounts;
- Trade and export financing;
- Operations with corporate customers: current and settlement accounts and term deposits;
- Documentary operations, including letters of credit and guarantees;
- Depositary operations;
- Fee-based services of all kinds not related to operations on the financial markets and currency valuables: settlement and cash services, collection, storage box, remote banking services;
- Internet and mobile acquiring operations with retail stores chain;
- Investments in non-banking digital business.

2. ANALYSIS BY SEGMENT (CONTINUED)

Retail business

RB global business line encompasses operations with individuals and specific operations with corporate customers.

The retail business comprises operations with all banking services for individuals, operations of individuals with plastic cards, payroll related services, payment processing centre service, all types of insurance products (except of pension insurance) and services and Investments in non-banking digital business.

Treasury

The Treasury comprises:

- Operations to manage liquidity risk (including those with securities portfolios maintained for liquidity management purposes);
- Operations on financial and interbank markets as a part of management of payment and currency positions, as well as interest rate risk management;
- Debt financing operations;
- Reallocation of resources between segments both within the Head office and subsidiary and between VTB Group members.

The net financial results of the Treasury reportable segment are allocated to other reportable segments in accordance with established methodology.

Other segments

The Other segments includes:

- Unallocated staff and administrative expenses related to VTB Group's management, as well as expenses on strategic programs connected with VTB Group's brand development. It may also include other items resulting from intersegment reallocations as determined by VTB Group's Management Committee, also includes investments in associates not allocated to reportable segments. (Corporate Centre segment);

- The non-banking business, including non-banking operations of the VTB Group companies operating in the construction and development industry; assets, which were transferred to the Group as a result of debt settlement and operations of companies in non-banking digital business. ("Other business" segment);
- The acquired subsidiaries of banks or financial companies, until the integration of activities of such subsidiaries into the Group's global business lines. ("Non-distributed acquisitions" segment).

(c) Assessing operating segments' profit or loss, assets or liabilities

The performance of a segment and its profit or loss are measured in accordance with IFRS, as adjusted by intersegment reallocations and decisions of VTB Group's Management Committee regarding the allocation of operations between segments.

The Head office and the Group members prepare segment reporting using unified rules.

Intersegment transactions within a single entity of the Group are settled using the internal transfer rates, which are designed to reflect the cost of resources. For VTB Group members operating in the Russian Federation, transfer rates are set centrally. For VTB Group members operating outside the Russian Federation, transfer rates are set and regularly reviewed within a specific legal entity. VTB Group's Management Committee evaluates segments' performance based on their net profit after tax, as well as other qualitative and quantitative information.

Intersegment transactions are predominantly conducted in the normal course of business.

As at 31 March 2025, the Group's reportable segments and their composition remained as disclosed in the summary consolidated financial statements as at 31 December 2024.

- Number of ordinary shares to be consolidated before increase in their nominal value: 26,849,669,465,190 ordinary shares of VTB Bank (PJSC);
- Nominal value of an ordinary share before consolidation: RUR 0.01;
- Number of ordinary shares to be consolidated into one ordinary share of the same category (consolidation ratio): 5,000 ordinary shares of VTB Bank (PJSC) with a nominal value of RUR 0.01 each are converted into 1 ordinary share with a nominal value of RUR 50 each (5,000:1);
- Number of ordinary shares after consolidation: 5,369,933,893.038 ordinary shares of VTB Bank (PJSC);
- Nominal value of an ordinary share after consolidation: RUR 50.

In July 2024, the Bank completed the announced consolidation of issued ordinary shares.

23. CONTINGENCIES AND COMMITMENTS

Legal proceedings

From time to time and in the normal course of business, claims against the Group are received. As at the reporting date the Group had several unresolved legal claims. Management assessed probable outflow of resources and the respective provision in the amount of RUR 6.5 billion has been made as at 31 March 2025 (31 December 2024: RUR 7.9 billion).

Tax contingencies

Major part of the Group's business activity is carried out in the Russian Federation. Russian tax and currency legislation as currently in effect is vaguely drafted and is subject to varying interpretations, selective and inconsistent application and changes, which can occur frequently, at short notice and may apply retrospectively.

In particular, numerous and substantial changes were introduced to the Russian tax legislation in 2022-2024 in response to the ongoing geopolitical situation. Some of the changes were designed to ease the effects of economic sanctions imposed on Russian taxpayers. Other changes sought to expand measures aimed at deterring abusive practices violating the tax legislation. In addition, certain provisions of a number of international tax treaties were suspended.

Currently the application practice for the above as well as other legislative provisions (e.g., prohibition of taxable base reduction and/or amounts payable when the main purpose of the transaction is non-payment (partial payment) and/or netting (recovery) of the tax amount) is not-existing or is contradictory. In this regard there is an uncertainty concerning their application and possible interpretation by Russian tax authorities.

Above changes as well as recent trends in law enforcement practice indicate that tax authorities and courts may take a tougher position when interpreting legislation and verifying tax obligations, including when applying this legislation to financial transactions, as well as when applying provisions aimed at identifying transactions whose main purpose is non-payment (incomplete payment) of the amount of tax. As a result, the tax authorities may file claims for those transactions and accounting methods for which they had not previously filed claims. As a result, significant additional taxes, penalties and fines may be accrued by the relevant authorities.

Generally, fiscal periods remain open and subject to review (except reviews of transfer pricing) by the Russian tax authorities for a period of three calendar years immediately preceding the year in which the decision to conduct a tax review is taken (exception to the general statute of limitation for the tax audits is provided by the cooperative tax compliance regime, which some of the entities of the Group have entered into). Under certain circumstances tax reviews may cover earlier periods.

As at 31 March 2025 and 31 December 2024, management believes that its interpretation of the relevant legislation is appropriate and that the Group's tax and currency positions should be sustained vis-à-vis tax authorities and courts.

Credit related commitments

The primary purpose of these instruments is to ensure that funds are available to a customer as required. Guarantees represent irrevocable assurances that the Group will make payments in the event that a customer cannot meet its obligations to third parties.

The total outstanding contractual amount of irrevocable undrawn credit lines, letters of credit and guarantees does not necessarily represent future cash requirements, as these financial instruments may expire or terminate without being funded.

24. OPERATING ENVIRONMENT OF THE GROUP

After 24 February 2022 the Group operates under large-scale international sanctions imposed against certain institutional bodies, companies, banks and citizens of the Russian Federation and the Republic of Belarus. New restrictions and sanction packages continue to be put into effect so far.

The announced sanctions imposed by the US, the EU, the UK and a number of other countries consider, among other things the partial freezing of the gold and foreign exchange reserves of the Bank of Russia, restrictions on access to European capital markets for the Ministry of Finance of the Russian Federation and the Bank of Russia, restrictions for residents of the Russian Federation on investing in instruments denominated in USD and EUR, as well as a number of other restrictive measures relating settlements, import and export operations with certain Russian banks and companies. The supply of EUR and USD cash banknotes to the Russian Federation is prohibited. A number of foreign companies suspended their operations in Russia or announced their complete cessation.

The USA, the EU, the UK and a number of other countries have imposed an embargo on the import of Russian oil by sea and set a price-cap on Russian tanker oil at 60 USD per 1 barrel.

In connection with the current regime of sanctions restrictions, payments on interest and dividends do not go in favor of equity and debt securities holders registered outside the perimeter of the depository system of the Russian Federation. The Bank of Russia restricted exchange trading in foreign securities blocked by international depositories. In July 2022, in accordance with Federal Law 292-FZ, Russian issuers were given the opportunity to issue local "substitute" bonds in a simplified manner to replace issued blocked Eurobonds.

Standard agreements operated under the ISDA (International Swaps and Derivatives Association) were early terminated after the announcement of sanctions in February 2022, which led to limited access to international derivatives markets.

Restrictions on making settlements in foreign currencies and investing in financial instruments denominated in foreign currencies lead to a significant change in the currency structure of settlements and the open currency position. Given significant volatility in foreign exchange rates, limited cross-border financial flows and introduction of secondary sanctions against international counterparties, such forced changes could have a material adverse effect on the Group's financial results.

The Government and the Central Bank of Russia have taken a number of measures to support the economy, which has suffered due to the imposition of sanctions. Among other things, these measures include borrowing subsidies for affected industries, companies and individuals, payment "holidays" and easing of certain regulatory restrictions to help the financial sector maintain its capabilities to provide resources and to help customers avoid liquidity shortages. The undertaken measures helped to reduce the negative impact of external factors and ensured the gradual stabilization of the situation, allowing to cancel some of mitigations introduced by the Central Bank of Russia, especially in terms of macroprudential policy.

In the first quarter of 2025 a positive misbalance between supply and demand remained in the circumstances of a slowdown in the expansion of domestic demand. The main factor in the growth of domestic demand was the fiscal impulse while maintaining private demand at a high level. The continued growth in private activity is supported by rising real wages in the context of labour market tensions. There is a gradual shift in the consumer behavior towards savings. A significant increase in profits of companies, including due to fiscal incentives, in the circumstances of optimization of production activity leads to high investment demand as part of the ongoing process of structural transformation in the economy.

Households' inflation expectations and businesses' price expectations started decreasing in the first quarter of 2025 in comparison with the average level of those indicators in 2024, still remaining at a high level. In the context of increased deglobalization, uncertainty in sustainability of inflation decrease trends and existing risks of growth of inflation rates, the Bank of Russia made decision to keep the key rate at the current level of 21%.

During the three-month period ended 31 March 2025 selected macroeconomic indicators in Russia were as follows:

	31 March 2025	31 December 2024
Key rate of the Central Bank of the Russian Federation (% per annum)	21.0	21.0
Exchange rate of the Central Bank of the Russian Federation (rubles per 1 US dollar)	83.6813	101.6797
RTS index	1,110.31	893.22

Due to the high level of uncertainty and limited up-to-date and consistent information on the financial position of the Group's counterparties and borrowers, it is hardly possible to present a reliable assessment of the impact of the changes in the economic environment on the Group's results.

For financial instruments that are recognised at fair value on a recurring basis, the Group determines whether transfers have occurred between Levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

A significant portion of the investment financial assets in Level 3 is invested in shares of non-listed companies, which are valued based on non-market observable information. Changes in assumptions can lead to adjustments in the fair value of these investments.

For the three-month period ended 31 March 2025, trading financial assets amounting to RUR 1.2 billion were transferred from Level 1 to Level 2, as their fair value began to be measured using the internal market model. Previously their fair value was determined based on quoted market prices.

For the three-month period ended 31 March 2025, trading financial assets amounting to RUR 5.7 billion were transferred from Level 2 to Level 1, as their fair value began to be measured using the quoted market prices.

SELECTED NOTES TO THE SUMMARY INTERIM CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

27. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF THE SUMMARY INTERIM CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (CONTINUED)

The summary interim condensed consolidated financial statements of the Group contain all the disclosures required by International Accounting Standard (IAS) 34, Interim Financial Reporting, except for the interim consolidated statement of cash flows and other information provided in Appendix 1 to the decision of the Board of Directors of the Bank of Russia dated 24 December 2024 on requirements for credit institutions (parent credit institutions of banking groups) to disclose their financial statements and information in 2025, namely:

- Investments in associates;
- Transactions (scope of transactions/amount of funds) in foreign currencies;
- Gains and losses (net gains) from dealing in foreign currencies and their revaluation;
- Income from participation in equity of other legal entities;
- Risks assumed, risk assessment and risk and capital management procedures (included in the information set out in the appendix to Directive No. 4482-U);
- Shareholders (participants) and parties controlling them;
- Affiliates;
- Parties that control or exercise significant influence on the credit institution;
- Subsidiaries of the credit institution (banking group);
- Parties controlling the credit institution;
- Transactions of the credit institution, its controlling parties and controlled parties;
- Counterparties of the credit institution and the industry-specific and geographical structure of transactions with them;
- Blocked assets;
- Reorganization of the credit institution (with the exception of information about the fact of making the decision on reorganization); and
- Significant facts (events and actions) which impact the financial and business activities of the credit institution subject to reorganization in the form of merger, acquisition and transformation (with the exception of facts (events, actions), specified in paragraphs 5 and 6 of part 8 of Article 23 of the Federal Law About Banks and Banking Activities).

Pursuant to the above decision of the Bank of Russia's Board of Directors, the Bank does not publish the interim condensed consolidated financial statements of the Group prepared in accordance with International Accounting Standard (IAS) 34, Interim Financial Reporting for the three-month period ended 31 March 2025.

Interim condensed consolidated financial statements of the Group which were used as a basis of preparation of these summary interim condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, as modified by the initial recognition of trading financial instruments based on fair value, by the revaluation of land, premises and investment properties, investment securities at fair value through profit and loss and through other comprehensive income, by assets of disposal groups held for sale measured at lower of: book value and fair value less cost to sell and also by premises, intended for sale in the normal course of business, measure at lower of: cost and net realizable value.

These summary interim condensed consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the summary consolidated financial statements as at 31 December 2024. Operating results for the three-month period ended 31 March 2025 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ending 31 December 2025.

These summary interim condensed consolidated financial statements are presented in Russian roubles (RUR), the national currency of the Russian Federation, where the Bank is domiciled.

Unless otherwise noted herein, all amounts are expressed in billions of Russian roubles rounded off to one decimal. Due to rounding, numbers presented throughout this document may not sum precisely to the totals provided and percentages may not precisely reflect the absolute figures.

Estimates and assumptions

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect reported amounts. These estimates are based on information available as at the date of the financial statements. Actual results can differ significantly from such estimates. Judgments and significant estimates in these summary interim condensed consolidated financial statements are consistent with those applied in the preparation of the Group's annual condensed consolidated financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2024, except for the adoption of new and revised Standards effective as of 1 January 2025.

New standards

The Amendments to IAS 21 Lack of currency domain capability, applicable for periods starting on or after 1 January 2025, became mandatory for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2025.

These amendments did not have a material effect on the Group's summary interim condensed consolidated financial statements.
